Academic Achievement

The faculty and staff recently completed a SWOT analysis of Saint Ambrose Academy. It was collectively determined that to truly live the mission of our school, we need to devote attention to improving the partnership between home and school.

Research has shown the relationship between home and school has a direct impact on student success and achievement.

Ways to improve the partnership:

1. Communicate – clearly and frequently!
2. Check your student's backpack, school website, and newsletters
3. Support the homework/study policy to ensure completion
4. Reinforce the importance of deadlines and turning work into the classroom teacher or main office when things are due.
